Cardinals put the Cincinnati Reds to rout in both games at League Park resterday afternoon. The first same resulted in a 3-to-0 victory for the locals and they captured the second fray by a 6-

slab was mainly responsible for the first victory, while Nichols's effective pitching and the Cardinals' clever all-round playing prought joy to the hearts of the local fans in the second bout.

At every stage of the game the Cardinals outplayed their rivals. In the first game Taylor allowed "Kelley's Kids" only three safe raps, while the locals found Jack Harper's curves for nine safe raps. In the second game Cincinnati made nine hits off Nichols, while the Cardinals umped into Kellum's midst for eleven safe than the visitors. Both teams lined up with new material in their make-up. Dave Zearfoss, the local's mountain man, caught both games for St. Louis, while Odwell took Donlin's place in left field. Mike is acting a trifle naughty, according to re-port, and Mr. Kelley has punished the obstreperous Michael by suspending him

Dave made a single and double in the first ray, and manufactured a one-base rap in the second contest.

Odwell did nicely in Donlin's place, but he is not as brilliant a performer as Michael.

Augustus Aurelius Moran butted into the first game with a decision that very much eased the local fans, and that made displeased the local fans, and that made "Silk" O'Loughlin, who sat in the stand, ashamed of his fellow umpire.

In the third inning, Beckley singled and turned into the running line for second. Jake saw that he could not reach station No. 2 in safety and retraced his steps toward first base. Kelley stood directly in Beckley's way and Jake bounced his 200 pounds against the "Reds" leader.

The ball got away from Kelley on the play and Beckley reached third in safety. Moran called Beckley back to first. The fans were much astonished at Moran's decision and for the rest of the day spoke of him in the most endearing terms.

THE FIRST GAME.

THE FIRST GAME.

St. Louis got busy with Mr. Harper in a hurry. It was Jack's thirteenth game and the locals took advantage of the unlucky number for Jack. After Farrell went down on an infied tap, Shannon tore off a triple to left field and scored a moment later on Beckley's single.

ment later on Beckiey's single.

Brain's single, Barciay's sucrifice and Zearfoss's double brought another tally over the plate for St. Louis in the second inning. Farrell's single, Shannon's sacrifice hit and Beckiey's single gave to St. Louis their third and last tally of the first game in the third inning.

Taylor opened the fifth inning for the locals with a crashing rap to right center, on which he was thrown out at third on a clever relay by Dolan and Huggins to Steinfeidt.

Odwell got as far as third in the open.

Odwell got as far as third in the open

Odwell got as far as third in the opening inning on a free gift from Taylor (Jack soaking Odwell in the back with the sphere), his steal of second and Zearfoss's wide throw. For the next three innings Taylor set the visitors down in one-two-three order.

Harper reached second in the slxth on his single, the first hit of the game off Taylor, and his steal of second. In the ninth inning, Taylor let down a bit, Odwell reached third on his safe bunt, and Seymour's double. During the game only two Red Legs reached third. A pretty stop by Huggins of Barclay's grounder in the fourth inning and Taylor's one-hand capture of Corcoran's hot one in the sixth were the fielding features.

THE SECOND GAME. The second game was full of excitement and pretty plays. The locals trifled away very. little time getting on speaking terms with Kellum's curves. Farrell started the game with a rap down between Odwell and Seymour on which he took three bases. Shannon dropped a Texas Leaguer back of second, scoring Farrell. Beckley bunted safely. Smoot sacrificed. Shannon tallied on Brain's drive to Odwell. Barclay singled, Nichols pitched himself out of a bad hole in the second inning. Seymour and Dolan singled and Nichols then filled the bases by hitting Steinfeldt on the arm. "Steiney" was badly shocked by the wallop and had to quit the game in the next inning, Woodruff taking his place at the third corner. Corcoran rapped a grounder to Brain on which Steinfeldt was doubled at second, Seymour scoring. Nichols then fanned Schlei.

Zearfoss opened the second inning for the locals with a single. Nichols lifted one up to Seymour. Farrell singled, Shannon walked. Beckley forced Zearfoss at the plate, but in trying for a double, Schlie hit Beckley with the ball, Farrell scoring. Beckley was out in a run up.

Huggins's single, Kelley's infield out and Seymour's single gave to the Reds a tally in the sixth. Brain's triple, and Barclay's single gave to St. Louis tally No. 5 in the sixth. Schlei's single and Kellum's triple netted the visitors their third and last tally in the seventh inning.

Shannon's fielder's choice and singles by Beckley and Smoot were responsible for

JOCKEY PERKINS HURT AT THE FAIR GROUNDS.

Result of Fall With Lord Haven

under contract to J. C. Cahn, was serious-Grounds yesterday when his mount, Lord | ship Haven, fell as the field was turning into the stretch in the third race, the horse falling directly upon the prostrate form of the boy. Immediately behind Lord Haven when the accident occurred was D. Austin on the mare Eleven Bells. Eleven Bells dashed into Lord Haven as the latter was attempting to arise, sending the gelding to the ground once more and throwing Austin over the pair.

Both boys were carried to the paddock.

It was found that Perkins had sustained a compound fracture of the skull. He re-covered consciousness for an instant while in the jockey-room, but could not recall any incident connected with his fall, and became unconscious almost immediately argain.

any incident connected with his fall, and became unconscious almost immediately again.

He was removed to the Missouri Raptist Sanitarium, and at a late hour last night had not regained consciousness. Physicians at the institution stated that he was doing as well as could be expected, however, and that his recovery was hoped for. Incidentally, Jockey Austin showed gameness of a high order after the race by promptly getting up after being carried to the paddock, and insisting upon filling out his engagements for the day. He rode Bugler in the next race, and put up a strong finish on the colt, getting third money rather easily.

Perkins came from Fayetteville, Ark. He has been riding at the local courses for the last two years.

In spite of Austin's shock in the previous race, he proved conclusively that Bugler was a better colt than Rainland yesterday when he finished ahead of the Goldbiatt colt by a wide margin.

After the fall, Lord Haven regained his feet, and ran around the track for three miles at top speed.

After the fall, Lord Haven regained his feet, and ran around the track for three miles at top speed. He then boiled through the outer fence, turning a complete somersault, and carrying away the upper rail and one of the supporting posts in his fall. He was bleeding slightly from the nose when led back to his stable.

The judges made an investigation into the causes of the fall and questioned Vanderbout and Fischer, who were nearest the horse when he fell. Paddock Judge Finney said that he could see no evidence of any jostling, which might have caused the tumble, and it is believed that Perkins tried to pull out from the side of Preakness, bumping the latter and causing Lord Haven to fall.

favorable late season last year, and the final yield was about thirty bushels per acre for the State.

Wheat—The late reports on the wheat crop show considerable variation. The group of counties in the Ozark region, including Marles, Phelps, Pulaski, Dent, Texas, Shannon, Wright and some of the adjoining counties, report a great deal of damage to wheat from rust, and in that section the yield will be very low, but in most of-the large wheat-producing counties the wheat is in fairly good condition, and our correspondents report a satisfactory yield.

Rain has greatly delayed harvesting, and in many counties the wheat is dead ripe, but cannot be cut because the ground is too soft to run the binders. Some have been cutting with the crade of the entire crop of the Same was harvested. In the southeast section 50 per cent of the group was barvested, while in the north-section only 5 per cent of the crop was in the shock of the grain, and is below the average. The yield, however, will be much better than for last year. The estimated average yield for the State is thirteen bushels, and, by crop sections, is as follows: Northeast, if bushels; northwest, if bushels; coutheast, 12 bushels: southwest, it bushels; coutheast, 12 bushels: more than the stime time last year.

COLONEL SPENCER RELEASED. Held for Manslaughter by Coroner's Jury in Railway Accident.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL

Texarkana, Tex., July 6.-The Coroner's jury, which has been investigating Monday's tragedy since yesterday morning, completed its labors this afternoon, returning a verdict which recites that Sybil Pugh and Lettic and Bertie Bell Pillow came to their death partly by reason of the carelessness and negligence of the street railway company and its employes, street railway company and its employes, and recommends that E. J. Spencer, president and general manager of the company, and the motorman, John Williams, who was in charge of the car at the time of the accident, be held for manslaughter.

Warrants were accordingly issued, and Colonel Spencer, who had just got in from St. Louis, was arrested. His bond was placed at $1.000, and was at once given. The motorman was also arrested shortly afterwards and admitted to bail.

The funeral of the three girls was held to-day, and was one of the largest in the history of the city.

Colonel Spencer says that a runaway horse overturned a surrey, threw the occupants in front of a moving car and that the traction company was not at fault.

"The action of the Coroner's jury is condemned by all leading citizens, who held the traction company not at fault," said Colonel Spencer.
